CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

Scope

1. These rules are applicable to national experts (SNEs) seconded to the European External Action Service (EEAS) by Member States' public administrations. They shall also apply to experts on secondment from an international organisation.
2. In exceptional cases, and with the prior authorisation by the Managing Director for Administration and Finance, the EEAS may agree to the secondment of national experts from non-EU States' public administrations. In such case, the EEAS shall ensure that there is no conflict of interest and that the independence and coherence of the EU foreign policy is safeguarded. Under the same conditions, seconded experts may also be recruited from non-profit organisations, such as research centers or think tanks.

3. The persons covered by these rules shall remain in the service of their employer throughout the period of secondment and shall continue to be paid by that employer.
4. The EEAS shall recruit SNEs in accordance with requirements and budgetary possibilities. The Human Resources Department shall establish the arrangements for such recruitment.
5. The Member States and the EEAS shall cooperate to ensure, as far as possible, that recruitment of SNEs to the EEAS is based on merit whilst ensuring adequate geographical and gender balance, in particular to ensure a meaningful presence of nationals from all the Member States.
6. Secondment shall be implemented by an exchange of letters between the EEAS Managing Director for Administration and Finance and the Permanent Representation of the Member State concerned, or the international organisation, or other relevant authority as appropriate. The place of secondment must be indicated in the exchange of letters. The rules applicable to SNEs on secondment to the EEAS and all other relevant information shall be publicly available and updated on the EEAS website. .

Article 2

Period of secondment

1. The initial period of secondment may not exceed two years and may be renewed successively up to a total period not exceeding four years. Exceptionally, at the request of the relevant Managing Director or equivalent, and where the interests of the service warrant it, the Human Resources Department may authorize one or more extensions of the secondment for a maximum of two more years at the end of the four year period.
2. The intended period of secondment shall be fixed at the outset in the exchange of letters provided for in Article 1(6). The same procedure shall apply in the case of a renewal of the period of secondment.
3. An SNE who has already been seconded to the EEAS may be seconded again, subject to the following conditions:
 - a) the SNE must continue to meet the conditions for secondment; and
 - b) a period of at least six years must have elapsed between the end of the previous period of secondment and any further secondment; if at the end of the first secondment the SNE has received an extension, the six-year period shall begin to run from the expiry of that extension.

This provision shall not prevent the EEAS from accepting the secondment, less than 6 years after the end of the first period of secondment, of an SNE whose initial secondment, including possible renewal and extensions, lasted for less than six years, but in that case the new secondment shall not exceed the unexpired part of the six-year period.

Article 3

Place of secondment

1. SNEs shall be seconded to the EEAS central administration in Brussels, or to a Union Delegation.
2. The place of secondment may be changed during the secondment by means of a further exchange of letters in accordance with Article 1(6) if the possibility of changing that place was not envisaged in the original exchange of letters. The administration which seconds an SNE shall be kept informed of any changes to the place of secondment.

Article 4

1. An SNE shall assist the EEAS and carry out the tasks assigned to him/her. The duties carried out shall be defined by mutual agreement between the EEAS and the administration or organisation which seconds the national expert in the interest of the EEAS and taking into account the SNE's qualifications. Accordingly, the EEAS may entrust the SNE with specific tasks or duties and charge him/her with the conduct of one or more specific missions or meetings provided that there is no conflict of interest

3. The EEAS, the SNE's employer and the SNE shall make every effort to avoid any conflict of interest or appearance of such a conflict in relation to the SNE's duties during secondment. To that end, the Human Resources Department shall, in good time, inform the SNE and the employer of the intended duties and shall ask each of them to confirm in writing that they know of no reason why the SNE should not be assigned to those duties including, in particular, with reference to the SNE's employment experience.

4. The SNE shall be asked in particular to declare any potential conflict between his/her family circumstances (in particular the professional activities of close family members or any important financial interests of his/her own, or of close family members) and the proposed duties while on secondment. The employer and the SNE shall undertake to notify the SNE's line manager and the Human Resources Department of any change of circumstances during the secondment which could give rise to any such conflict.
5. In the event of failure to comply with the provisions of paragraphs 3 and 4, the EEAS may terminate the secondment of the SNE under the terms of Article 9(2)(c).

1. An SNE shall be subject to the rules in force in the EEAS as regards working hours..
2. An SNE shall serve on a full-time basis throughout the period of secondment. 3. Where part-time working is authorised, the SNE shall work at least half of the normal working time.
4. The allowances in force within the EEAS for shift-work or standby duty may be paid to SNEs.

Article 12

1. An SNE shall be subject to the rules in force in the EEAS regarding leave on grounds of sickness or accident.
2. Where the period of sick leave exceeds three months or the period of service performed by the SNE, whichever is the longer, the allowances referred to in Article 16(1) and (2) shall be automatically suspended. In such a case, the employer will be notified by the EEAS. This provision shall not apply in the event of illness linked to pregnancy. Sick leave may not extend beyond the duration of the secondment of the person concerned.
3. However, an SNE who is the victim of a work-related injury which occurs during the secondment shall continue to receive in full the allowances provided for in Article 16 (1) and (2) throughout the period during which he/she is unfit for work up to the end of the period of secondment.

2. An SNE may, alternatively, apply for a suspension of the secondment to cover the whole of the period allowed for maternity. In that case a period equivalent to the suspension shall be added at the end of the secondment if the interests of the EEAS warrant it.

Article 15
