

What do I need to do if I lose, damage or have my passport stolen abroad?

Bulgarian consular officers abroad can issue a temporary passport upon payment of the respective fees. You can find more about this type of document in the Consular Services section, Consular Services Abroad subsection, Temporary Passports.

In places where there is no Bulgarian embassy or consulate, you can contact the embassy or consulate of any EU Member State with a request to be issued a temporary travel document, the so-called Emergency Travel Document. You can find general information about this type of document in the Consular Services section, Emergency Travel Document.
